DEALERS AT OUR SHOW

We are very happy to list the dealers who have helped make our show possible. Without their support we would be unable to have our show in this fine Armory.

Most all of the dealers have some form of price list or catalog that they would be happy to send you, if you wish to order by mail from them.

ROCKHATER

Of ye who say you like not rocks,
What is it that I perceive?
Could that be a polished garnet gem
Adorning your cuff-linked sleeve?

Why wear you that fancy silver ring?
Your finger does not look bare!
Is it the metal you wish to show?
Or the beautiful opal there?

What is that thing that shines so bright
In the pin upon your tie?
The clasp is hidden deep in the cloth;
'Tis the garnet that catches the eye!

Your belt is of leather, as most belts are,
But the buckle is nice to behold;
That onyx initial is pretty, indeed,
And really looks better than gold.

Oh ye who say you like not rocks,
Give me your jewelled pen;
Your cuff links, your ring, your belt and pins;
And I will believe you - then.

Lincoln, Nebr. Show Drew Big Crowd

The LGMC, Inc. held their second annual show on Sept. 24th and 25th, and it was a huge success. Paid attendance was double that of last year, due primarily, to an advance sale of tickets. In this way we drew people that we know would not have attended had they not purchased a ticket before hand. We were also fortunate in securing free radio and TV coverage, plus news features in our local newspaper.

We had eight very wonderful dealers, who helped to make the show such a success by having very high quality material for sale.

We were very proud of our material in our show cases and the variety of exhibits and the display of our junior members.—Frances Tracy. ●
