

OCTOBER ROCK PARTY

By Sharon Marburger; Photos by Jayne Beer

October 13 was a beautiful day wedged between a cold and rainy day and a 6-inch snow storm. It could not have been any better for a cookout and backyard Rock Party. I believe there were 11 members, two visitors, and Hank the Dog in attendance.

Wooly and Jackie hosted the event, and provided an assortment of dogs (wieners, brats, sausages) to cook over the fire circle. There was a rumor of smores being made at the fire circle, for those who wanted some. No one went home hungry, however, there was so much food that some of it went home untouched.

We sat around the fire, chatting about rocks, field trips, and other fun stuff. About the time I packed up my things to go home, almost everyone else went into the house and basement to work on projects.

Jayne was good enough to provide these pictures.

