

OCTOBER ROCK PARTY

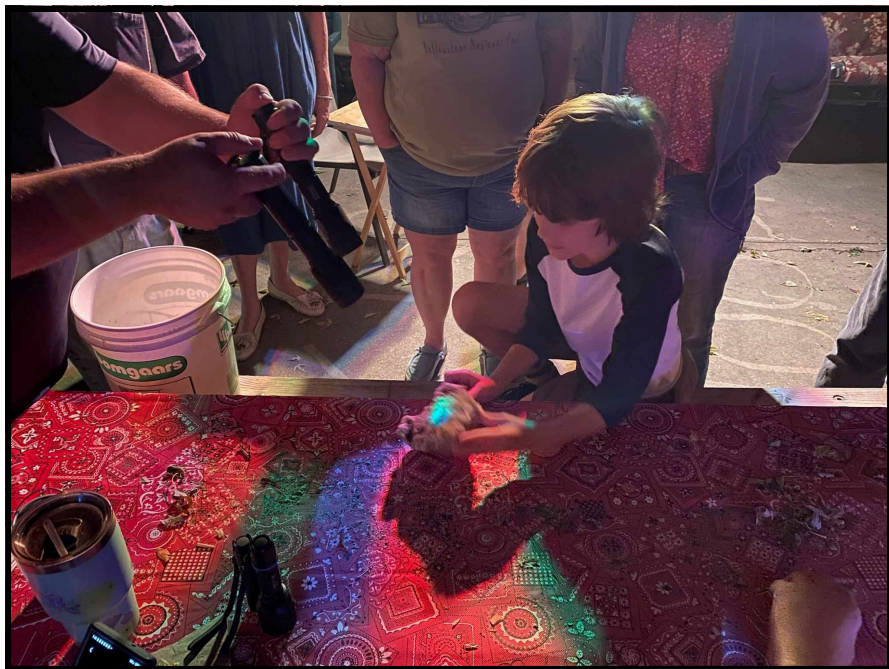

At least 17 adults and one junior attended the Rock Party at Wooly's and Jackie's on October 20th. It was a fine meal of chili and other pot luck items. After eating, Wooly brought out the rocks to distribute to whoever wanted some. Arvid was front and center at the pile, making sure to not miss anything. Judging by the pictures, everyone had a great time!

Rocks giveaway. UV flashlights used to see what fluoresced. Wooley gave this to the person who was the MOST polite in the giveaway. A piece of yellow Youngite. This young man sure was happy to get it. And yes, he was exceedingly polite. Shared and wasn't grabby. Photo by John Moss.

Apparently those of us not in attendance at the Rock Party missed out on Donitte dancing on the tables! John's expression is priceless!! Aren't optical illusions hysterical? Photo by Beer.

The Youngite was from Wooley's personal collection. Corey offered to clean it or help Oliver clean it at the rock shop using his cleaner/blaster. Oliver was very excited and happy. Photo by John Moss.
