CLUB LEADERSHIPAFMS NEWSLETTER - SEPTEMBER, 2001by Steve Weinberger, President-Elect*

When we think about how various clubs operate, we tend to separate the clubs into two categories: those that function well and those that don't. We also want our clubs to be in the former group.

The one factor which enables clubs to be successful is the leadership of its officers. Leadership qualities can take the form of people skills, organizational skills, or special insights into the workings of groups. Very few people are gifted with all three of these. (they probably also win the lotto every week and live at the end of a rainbow.) However, if a leader is aware of his or her strengths and can capitalize on them, the job of running a club can be an enjoyable one for all.

Everyone has strengths! If you are good at organization you can plan just what has to be done and when, then set up your schedule, allow the proper people to take charge of the various activities, and all should fall nicely into place. If your strength is people skills, make someone with the organizational ability your close assistant. In this way, you can motivate individuals to do all kinds of jobs, and keep everything on track time-wise.

Using the strengths which you have might be something new for you, but it will allow you to grow in ability and confidence. The benefits to you and your club become synergistic.

There is one more factor which I have not mentioned and that is of an awareness that the good leader must have. You must read and assimilate all information necessary to do your job well.

This means that reading federation newsletters, answering requests from the community for information, and informing your members of all important happening are all things that have to be a part of your schedule.

Finally, the last important job of a leader is to be there pitching in when things have to be done. You cannot just delegate in January and expect things to be done all year. You must interact with committee chairmen and other officers throughout the year. Since the president is an ex-officio member of most committees, by helping with these committees you have a perfect way to stay informed and to insure that things are going well.

Too many people are afraid to take on the job of club president because they fear that the job will be overwhelming. If you remember that you do not need all possible skills to do well, but rather can focus on those that you can do effectively, you will find that leadership can be a learned behavior, and one that you just might even enjoy.

President's Message

Our thoughts and prayers are with the missing, dead, and volunteers that are involved with the World Trade Center tragedy. You, the members of The Lincoln Gem and Mineral Club, have come through with your generosity by giving a check for $1000 to the American Red Cross. This was delivered to the local Red Cross on Tuesday October 9, 2001. Thank you.

We have lost the Bingell Family. They have moved to the southwest where David has found a position that utilizes his talent and training. Kay Mead and her husband have left for new positions in Minneapolis Minnesota. These families will be missed.

On the positive side we have gained a new member Nathan Christensen. Nathan has a great interest in our hobby and is going to explore several facets of it. Welcome Nathan.

Our 'Halloween Party-Dessert Meeting' is coming up October 27. This is a fun meeting to attend. Everyone brings a dessert, we provide the coffee. Costumes optional. See you there.

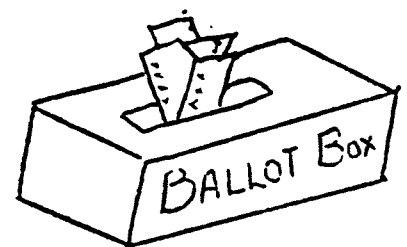

Grant Bennett was in the hospital from Saturday, September 29 through October 3 for a breathing problem. He is home and getting back into his routine.

ADVENTURES by Grant

A busy summer with a couple of side trips so far. Was informed of an auction in Hastings, Nebraska. So off to Hastings with a couple of Lincoln club members. Arrived at 5 o'clock just as the bidding started for the rockhounds. A lot of material went over the auction block. A faceting unit, metal plating unit, a buffing machine and a lot of hand tools. Something for everyone in the hobby. Did meet up with Ed Anderson and his wife. They had just returned from a nice trip to the state of Washington. Ed is the president of the Nebraska Association of Earth Science Clubs. (NAOESCI)

Ruth and I headed to Fairfield, Iowa for their annual show, September 8-9, 2001. A great show with 10 dealers in jewelry, gems and minerals. Many nice display cases to look at. One case showed purple jade from Turkey. And don't forget the four very beautiful championship cases of cabochons displayed by Loomis Truesdale. Had a nice chat with Dennis Kassow, club president. Bill and Betty Rathbun were the show chairpeople. They did a great job in setting up the show. Must compliment the many members for their effort to make the show a success.

Thanks, Bill for letting me set up the Old Timers. Did do some business for the Old Timers. Also helped out a bit with the Fairfield Club.

ADVENTURES by Grant

Something a little different for a change, a field trip.

Was called by Roger Pabian who wanted to know if I wanted to go on a field trip. Of course I said yes. Going on a field trip with Roger is always an adventure. We left Lincoln at 8:30 AM headed to southwest Nebraska. After a few hours driving we were in rock hunting territory. I firmly believe Roger knows every road in that area. We did have to pass up a few roads, very muddy! Later in the day we decided on some known gravel bars on the Big Nemaha River. We scoured them closely, getting closer to going home time. Then it happened, a black and white lined rock was spotted. Proceeded to dig it out of the mud and sand, brushed off an 8 by 6 inch piece of rock, or so we thought Well to our surprise it turned out to be a mammoth's tooth. What a find to make our day. A beautiful show and tell item. I found some nice pieces of agate, jasper, granite, and opalite. To some it may be leaverite material, I liked it.

Got back in Lincoln around 7:30 PM. What a great day! Good weather, good friend, and a very pleasant day.

Too bad more club members don't take time for a field trip. Oh yes, not everyone finds their treasure. But I repeat fresh air, exercise and good fellowship means an awful lot. Here's hoping someone in the club will come up with an idea for a future field trip.

Editor's note—Thanks to our club's First Vice President, Grant S. Bennett for sharing your 'Rock Adventures' with us. Your enthusiasm is great to see. —And on another note, we are sorry for your recent hospital visit and hope you stay well in the future. Pick & Shovel Staff

NO OLD BUSINESS:

NEW BUSINESS: RED CROSS DONATION

In light of the recent disasters in New York, Washington D.C. and PA; I'd like to propose that LGMC donate $ 1,000. to the American Red Cross to aid in this cause.

Perhaps some of you think that's a large amount, but it's mere pennies, and I personally think it could be much greater.

The donation will not affect any of us financially - LGMC is not our livelihood, - it is our hobby.

Even though there will be no monetary gain for LGMC, I think it will be the greatest investment the Club has made in its entire history.

But this disaster can rip away the very "core" of our freedom in a very short time, - - so we had better help.

Do I think this will set a precedent for other solicitations? - NO!

This is an unprecedented, horrendous act. And something very similar could happen here in NE or anywhere again in a heartbeat.

If these are also your thoughts, I'd like to proceed with this as a motion. (Vera Lyman)

So moved by Billie Heffelbower, 2nd by Susan Taylor. Motion carried.

Roger Pabian, Jim Atkins, and Irl Everett volunteered to deliver check to American Red Cross as soon as possible.

State Association Meeting will be held at Omaha Show (Oct 6-7).

Four delegates are needed. Roger Pabian, Dave Heffelbower, and Pat Akins volunteered. Possibly Grant Bennett as one; but was not at Meeting to confirm.

BY LAWS: All up-dates and recommended revisions printed in Sep. Pick & Shovel.

Motion by Phyllis Parks that the new changes be approved as recommended by the Long Range Planning and By Laws Committee and later by the current Elected officers and Board of Directors, and as printed in the Sep.

Pick & Shovel. I further move that funds be approved for our Recording Secretary to arrange the printing and assembly of the completely updated Articles of Incorporation and By Laws Manual for our total Membership with extra copies to be available as new members are accepted into the club. 2nd to motion by Roger Pabian. Motion carried.

Nebraska Bead Society Show

On September 29, the Nebraska Bead Society held its second annual bead show at the Nebraska Center. There were some very nice displays of bead-work and several workshops on various bead projects were also presented to the show visitors.

Several LG&MC members including Susy McMahan, Eddie Ridge and I attended the event. Charlene Zweerink attended in the capacity of a dealer. During the show, I demonstrated lapidary techniques and received a few new hints on how to combine bead and lapidary work into congruous media. Eddie Ridge assisted me in the lapidary demonstrations. In addition to the demonstrations, Susy McMahan and I had displays of lapidary work for the visitors to see.

We also took the opportunity to plug our own show on March 23 and 24 of 2002. I hope that the Nebraska Bead Society will host another similar event in the future. It was most enjoyable and I would recommend all LG&MC members to attend their next event.

Omaha Gem & Mineral Show

The Nebraska Mineral and Gem Club of Omaha hosted its annual show at the Holiday Inn on October 6 and 7. As usual, there were many fine displays, demonstrations and dealers. I brought along two displays, Brazilian agates and the Agate Page posters and furnished several door prizes courtesy of the Conservation and Survey Division.

I observed Dave & Billie Heffelbower, Eddie Ridge, Paul Brauch,

Philip and Patty Rose, as visitors and John Harrison and family in the capacity of dealers. I hope I missed seeing some of our members there as it is always nice to have a big turnout at other club's shows.

Mr. Bones, the animated skeleton of a Tyrannosaurus rex, was at the show and it proved popular to the many visitors. Mr. Bones has been at the show at Kansas City several times too. The low ceilings at Pershing would, unfortunately, preclude having Mr. Bones at a Lincoln show at least until we have a site with a much higher ceiling. I have no doubt that it would be a very popular attraction.

I did take advantage of the presence of some of the dealers who will be at our show to get their contracts to them.

Nebraska Association of Earth Science Clubs (NAES) Meeting

The annual meeting of the NAES directors took place on Sunday, October 7, and Susy McMahan, Pat Akins, and I represented Lincoln. Lincoln Gem and Mineral Club was awarded the state show for 2002 and this will be reflected in a few editorial changes on our flyers at the next printing.

A motion to raise the price of the Gem Palette passed to keep up with increased costs in printing and postage. Several new officers and directors were also elected. These should appear first in Gem Palette and Pat Akins will publish that in the next issue. Keep tuned there for all of the state news and subscribe to it if you don't do so now.

2002 LGMC Show News

The plans for the 2002 annual show are now starting to gel and we will have much more to announce by the October meeting.

Pat Akins will be assisting John Harrison on the floor. This is probably the most important job on the set up day and that committee is in good hands now.

Charles Wooldridge will assist with chairing the dealers committee. Contracts were issued to six dealers at the Omaha show (three have been received back with positive news) and the remaining contracts will be in the mail when you read this.

Judy Reilly will assist with ribbons and awards and we are most happy to have some new people becoming involved.

Susy McMahan is doing the selling and non-selling demonstrators. At the Omaha show, Susy and I visited with several of their demonstrators who have not yet been to a Lincoln show. We hope to add some new activities to the show for next year.

Grant Bennett will combine the club table along with the old-timers table at the show. We would also like to have several members help Grant in that area.

I will be in touch with more members to take part in the show planning and design.

I will be calling a meeting for the show committee in the very near future. By then we will have some new members and have more contracts in the mail.

Individual members should now start planning their exhibits and other ways in which they can participate in their show. Thank you.

Latest Lapidary Class

The latest edition of the lapidary classes through Southeast Community College began on Monday, October 1, with 10 students. Five are new to the lapidary field and five are graduate students, so to speak. The students are learning how to utilize several different kinds of equipment---diamond and carbide, each with fixed and mobile grits. All of the beginning students have a series of exercises to do before they are allowed to do their own thing. The basics cover an oval cabochon, a square, a marquise, a heart, a crescent and a doublet. Each of these exercises shows how to use a different piece of equipment in a different fashion to produce a desired result.

Many thanks are due to Lincoln Gem & Mineral Club, and especially to Adeline Nolde, for the support they have furnished. The club has gained a few new members who have been very enthusiastic and the future looks good.

WILL THAT GLASS EVER TURN PURPLE?

If you just can't wait to find out, and don't have the time to leave your glass in the sunlight for a long time, just place it under a black light. If the glass fluoresces green, it will turn purple when exposed to the ultraviolet rays of the sun.

This color change is due to the small amount of manganese which is added to the melted ingredients of sand, soda, and lime to free them from the ever-present traces of iron which gives the glass the common aqua color.
